Hello Justice Silverstein,

First off, I'd like to say I don't like what the BOA is doing. In our case, I couldn't believe they were cheating, everyone. They need to be held accountable as soon as possible. I am really sick of this.
There, I want to tell you about what was in my own family. In 1967-1970 we lived in a trailer park in Mason, Ohio. At the end of 1967, my brother and I joined the Boy Scouts. In 1967, we had just come back from a state wired camp. It was a big debt. We met everyone and the grandmothers. But me and my dad put everything away and when I was in the living room, he had drinks and sat down next to me on the big chair.
it feel three people next thing I know they go shouldn't have said it like that. But in my own words is the only
I know.
I tried real hard to get away. By I couldn't afraid I didn't know what to so I waited until I could then I ran like hell to my mom and told her what happened. Right away she called Dad at work, all I can remember the law taking Dad away. We didn't see Dad for about a week, that's how he was in Jail for beating up I would like to say again. The BSA needs to be held accountable for these actions.

Thank you very much. I hope you can understand everything. My best.
